

Justin Tyrone Perry

Born on January 6, 1987, in Washington, D.C. at Sibley Memorial Hospital to the parents of Tyrone Michael Perry and Shela Vivian Perry. He attended The Holston Montessori School in Washington, D.C. starting at the age of 3 years old until 5 years old. Because of the advanced studies acquired at the Holston Montessori School in Washington, D.C. Justin was afforded the opportunity to start 1st grade and bypass kindergarten. At a very young age Justin had an insatiable desire for reading. I believe this has greatly contributed to his desire to be a journalist. Justin was and still is an avid reader. Along with loving to read, like most young boys, he was always active in sports and loved competition.

Justin attended Fountain Valley High School in Fountain Valley, CA. There he continued his strong academic achievements and excelled in many areas and also earned awards for his high academic achievements. Very few people know that Justin is bi-lingual as he studied Spanish for three (3) years while at Fountain Valley High School. Also while at Fountain Valley High School, Justin was a 4 year football player. As a senior, he helped his team advance to the semi-finals of the Southern Section CIF Division 1 Championship Series. Although they lost, the experience of playing in such a high stakes game was something he really cherished. Justin went on to be a 3 year letterman in Varsity football, was named to the All Orange County team and was also honored as the Prep Player of The Year for his school.

Justin was always involved with church activities at Johnson Chapel A.M.E. Church in Santa Ana, CA at which he is still member today. He was also involved in boy scouting as well, where he finished as a 1st Class Scout. After graduation from high school, Justin chose to attend San Jose State University, where he will soon graduate with a degree in Broadcast Journalism. He is currently doing an internship with KNTV 11 in San Jose, CA, which is the NBC affiliate in that city. At this internship, Justin does all major logging of sporting events, sports clip editing, assisting in the production of the nightly sports segment, assisting in the writing of scripts, and fact checking duties.

Justin is a caring and considerate person who loves his friends and family. Although a single child, his unselfish ways and generosity has made him a favorite amongst those in his inner circle. Justin is always determined to finish any task that is put in front of him. He possesses superb work ethic and is very responsible for someone his age. You can always count on Justin to listen to anyone's problems and give out great advice when needed. Loyalty and trustworthiness are his greatest attributes. A quality most people identify and love about Justin is that he can always bring a smile to your face with his great sense of humor. No matter what the situation, Justin stays level-headed. and keeps those around him the same way so that results are always optimized. Justin aspires to be an on-field analyst for ESPN during the College Football and NFL Seasons. The classes that Justin is currently taking along with his internship are allowing him a bright future in the field of broadcast journalism. Also, Justin hopes to one day be recognized for an Emmy Award, for a special feature he will do in the field of sports. Inspired by his two wonderful parents, Justin sees life's opportunities as endless, and always puts his best effort forward.
